

Jim's Laws of Alcohol

The Law of Quantity:

Drink all you can stand, until you can no longer stand. Then sit down and drink some more.

The Law of Efficiency:

Always seek to consume the beverage with the greatest alcoholic content per unit volume.

The Law of Relationships:

In a group of drunk and sober people of both sexes, the sober guys will get the girls, and vice versa. In other words, Those who get fucked up will not get fucked.

The Law of Personality:

A drunk asshole is still an asshole.

The Law of Limits:

Your body will tell you when you've had too much to drink. However, at this point you will be too drunk to listen.
